It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to burn with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; Hospital size $2.50.

TO SUPERIOR COURT FOR STALING RING FROM GIRL

Because she had jilted him at a dance to which he had taken her it is charged that Thomas Kenna, a color at the Coast Guard academy, planned to get even with Miss Margaret Hanaway of 14 Division street, New London and as a result he landed in police court there Thursday morning. Kenna's method of getting even with Miss Hanaway was to steal her diamond ring valued at $100. He pleaded guilty to the charge in court, probable cause was found, and he was bound over to the next term of the superior court under bond of $750.

Waterford Democratic Delegates.

The democratic voters of Waterford met Wednesday night at the home of E. C. Beebe and elected John C. Geary and S. H. Shawing delegates to the state democratic convention in New Haven in May. The recommendation was made that Mr. Geary be a delegate-at-large to the national convention.

SUFFRAGISTS HEAR TWO SENATORS SPEAK

Norwich, Friday, April 23, 1920.

A county conference of the New London county suffrage association was held Thursday in the rooms of the Women's club in New London. Miss Edna L. Tyler, county chairman, presiding. The minutes of the last conference were read by the secretary, Mrs. Frederick Jones of Waterford and Mrs. Charles Williams of Mystic told of the condition of the county treasury. Reports from various leagues showed money was being raised and Miss Mary Moreland, county organizer, gave an account of her work in arranging classes in citizenship for New London county in New London the first week of July. Such instances are being held with much success in all counties of the state.

Miss Katherine Ludington, president of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage association told of the different steps taken to secure a special session of the legislature. Not only has a majority of the legislature petitioned to call it, but hundreds of prominent republicans have petitioned that it be done and a resolution to that effect was passed by the republican convention. During the first week of May, women from every state in the Union petitioned Congress to call a special session of Congress to consider the bill for women's suffrage.

After luncheon at the Hotel Mohican, ES-Senator Lucius Whitten and Senator William C. Fox appeared before the women and urged reasons why the women should ally themselves with their respective parties. Mr. Whitten congratulated the women upon the nearness of the ranks of voters, claiming that women would introduce a new point of view to many questions. Voting, he said, was not a privilege but a responsibility and the willingness to accept this responsibility seriously, is one of the reasons for our great American history. He maintained that the republican party could claim the support of the women voters because in its acts as an organization, it has been a source of ability, character and citizenship, which has led to prosperity. Mr. Whitten closed, by giving his reasons for opposing the league of nations.

Senator Fox, the democratic senator from New London, on taking the floor, attacked the republican party of Connecticut for its attitude on suffrage. He maintained that J. Henry Koraebek was personally responsible for the failure of the presidential bill in the last legislature and that Governor Hoadley is responsible for blocking suffrage for the women of the nation. President Wilson is the first president to fight for suffrage and the democrats of Connecticut are solid for the measure. Mr. Fox said that Connecticut republicans were responsible for blocking suffrage and that the women should give their gratitude to the party which has helped it, namely, the democratic party. Nationally, the democratic party has given suffrage to the women and it is only a matter of time before it will give it to women and Mr. Fox mentioned the bills for women workers, health and education, the eight hour law, the rural credits and the federal reserve banks. He spoke for the league of nations as a forward step and maintained that its defeat was a matter of politics.

Miss Ludington made for many a pointed the league of women voters, a multi-partisan organization of women enrolled in their respective parties but by coming together for a while at least, as a body of women.

The meeting adjourned at four o'clock.

HOME-BREW GROTON WINE

HAS STRONG KICK IN IT

Charges with manufacturing wine in defiance of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution, Doanot Rice of 16 Po-quemoque road, Groton, was presented before U. S. Commissioner E. L. McGuire in New London Thursday afternoon.

Commissioner McGuire postponed the hearing on Rice until Friday, May 7. Armed with a search warrant, McGuire visited Rice's home late Monday afternoon and on finding a cider press and two kegs full of a beverage, he arrested Rice. McGuire collected the equipment and took samples of the liquid. Tuesday the officer informed Rice's counsel that the beverage contained alcohol and that the night before, McGuire had taken the out of the bottle and splashed all over the wall of his room at the Groton hotel.

Rice alleges that the beverage he was brewed was a light wine made of raisins, sugar and water. He maintains that he manufactures it solely for his own consumption and has not attempted to dispose of any of it. He is employed at the Ship & Engine Co. and is the owner of considerable real estate in Groton.

Increased Water Costs in New England Cities.

Many of the larger cities of New England have, during the past year, been forced to increase the price of water for general maintenance and improvements. At Waterbury during the past month the mayor William H. Sandford appointed a special commission consisting of committee members of the board of public works, Charles H. Smith, and Addison A. Ashland, superintendent of Water Works, William G. Smith, to investigate and report on an increase.

Their recommendation was that on and after May 1st, the cost of water would be 15-12 cents per 100 cubic feet which will increase the yearly revenue of this department $30,000. This recommendation was accepted.

Commissioner Preston is well known here, his former home, but has resided in Waterbury for a number of years past.

AT DAVIS THEATRE

Clayton Talks About the Occult

After the Thursday afternoon performance at Davis theatre, Clayton, psychic marvel, kindly consented to an interview by a representative of The Bulletin in which he made the following statement:

"I can only say that from my standpoint the things I do are simple, while from the standpoint of the observer they appear complex and mysterious. The statement would apply to work of a prestidigitator, with the qualification that the latter is known to employ paraphernalia and confederates, while I employ none. The public is mystified and entertained by the magician but clearly understands that the work is pure dexterity and trickery. Audiences are equally mystified and entertained by my work, yet I am in great measure a scientist. Concentration, I think, is the word which best describes the active principle of my work. I confess some obligation to inspiration also, but inspiration without concentration is of no use. Concentration is the factor which gives my inspirations practical form and expression, without it I would be simply a dreamer and a guesser."

"Occult? Certainly, I may say with modesty, I hope that I do. Occultism is an essential element of my success. I use the term, 'occultism' in its broad, far-reaching sense, not in its narrow definition of concealment. No educated Hindu could deny the occult—it is essentially a part of his religion and training; yet, I confess, it is unexplainable. The secret power of occultism is, in effect, a sixth sense; I can no more analyze it than I can analyze any of my other five senses. I perceive the results of this sixth sense, just as I perceive the results of my other five senses, and in a way can describe them, but that is all. I wish to say that concentration also is the active principle of occultism."

"Occultism, inspiration—plus concentration—make the pages of individual like an open book to be read intelligently by him who knows how. What more can I say? Tell your readers to come and see for themselves."

Besides Clayton on the bill for the last half of the week are four good acts of vaudeville, Howard and Sadie, two girls have a neat singing and talking act that goes big.

Ross and Mattie get across with a clever tumbling act which introduces several feats.

The other two acts, talking and singing act by Challa and Cortan and the trained baboon act are very good.

"Double Speed" a Paramount feature with Wallace Reid in the leading role completes the bill.

There is to be a special performance for women at the theatre this (Friday) morning.

trolley service at its own expense.

If the trolley company is not to use the city's money, the city will have to appropriate by the city of New London will be sufficient to strengthen the bridge for vehicular traffic. But if the trolley company decides to make the track connections and take over the track on the bridge then a new Crystal avenue bridge will be necessary. The mayor says that a new bridge means a cost of $25,000 at least and he is unwilling to expend that amount and maintain that the trolley company for whose benefit it would be constructed, should bear the difference between the cost of repairs and a new bridge.

It is quite likely that unless the Connecticut company decides one way or another in the near future that the city will proceed with the repairs to the bridge and the highway commissioner will proceed with the changes and improvements of the approach and highway to state control on either side of the bridge.

NORWICH IS TO GO ON DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

Norwich is to go on the daylight saving plan Sunday morning, April 25, by moving the clocks ahead an hour at 2 o'clock that morning. This change will remain in force until 2 a. m. on the last Sunday of October, when the return to standard, or sun time, will be made.

Mayor J. J. Desmond issued the following announcement Thursday after holding a conference at 10 in the morning with representatives of manufacturing industries, the trolley line and others.

In accordance with the resolution adopted on the 5th, instant, by the court of common council of the city of Norwich, Connecticut, notice is hereby given that on next Sunday, April 25, 1920, at 2 o'clock a. m., the time pieces controlled by this city will be advanced one hour from eastern standard time; and that this change shall remain in force until 2 a. m. on the last Sunday of October, 1920, when return shall be made to regular eastern standard time.

It is hoped and expected that this daylight saving plan will be adopted generally throughout this town and also in neighboring communities, the advantages of concerted action in this matter being obvious.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 22nd day of April, 1920.

(Signed) J. J. DESMOND, Mayor.

Major Desmond introduced the subject of the meeting by saying that the decision of the New Haven railroad to shift the time of its trains one hour ahead instead of moving its clocks one hour ahead had introduced a complication not foreseen when the common council had voted to go into the daylight saving plan of the railroad adopted a daylight saving schedule.

John F. Rogers, resident manager of the Union Shield Finishing Co., who said that he was speaking for the majority of the manufacturers, said that they would rather move the clock ahead than asked their employees to come to work an hour earlier. If the clock was left at standard time, the manufacturers considered this plan impractical. They believed the only way was to set the clock ahead. Massachusetts and Rhode Island have both adopted this plan and the trainmen can do the same if they choose to. If the whole of Connecticut goes onto daylight saving, every community will have to do the same. All trolley car lines will be operated along the line of standard time and they will adopt the plan that Norwich does.

Other manufacturers present concurred with Mr. Rogers and F. B. Ricketts, agent of the Ponemah mill, that their favored daylight saving but could not get into the plan unless the clocks were set an hour ahead. He said further that a poll of the mill had been taken, the result of which showed that two-thirds of the employees wanted the daylight saving, one-sixth did not care which way and one-sixth as opposed to the plan. This he said showed clearly what the people wanted. Arthur C. Brown, agent of the Falls company, stated that on a poll at his mill 98 per cent of the employees voted in favor of the daylight saving.

President J. A. Bishop of the school board stated that the schools would go onto the daylight saving time Monday if the city adopted it and Manager Samuel Anderson of the trolley line said the trolleys would run on the daylight saving time.

Opposition to the daylight saving plan was expressed by Calvin A. Swan who telephoned to the meeting on behalf of the market gardeners and by first selectman Casper A. Bailey for the farmers. He said that none of them were in favor of the plan.

A long discussion of the farmers' view of the change in time did not change the views of the meeting and Mayor Desmond decided to issue his proclamation. It was also voted at the meeting that the city of Connecticut do the same in accordance with the daylight saving plan. It was suggested at the meeting that should every city and community in the state of Connecticut do the same the pressure might be brought to bear that would change the present plans of the railroad officials.

Officers of Founders and Patriots

The following officers were elected at the annual session of the Connecticut Society of Founders and Patriots in New Haven:

Herbert L. Lovell, Waterbury, governor.

Arthur E. Sherman, secretary and treasurer of the Shore Line Electric Railway Co. and of the Eastern Connecticut Power Co. has presented his resignation from these offices and is to take a position in the accounting department with a wholesale paper house in Providence.

Mr. Sherman expects to make the change as soon as it can be conveniently arranged but his resignation has not yet been accepted by the local companies.

He has been with the Shore Line company for nine years, beginning with them as auditor and subsequently being elected secretary and treasurer and discharging the duties of his offices with fidelity and ability. When the Eastern Connecticut Power Co. was formed a few years ago he was elected secretary and treasurer of that company.

COMMISSIONER BENNETT TO CONFER OVER THAMES BRIDGE

Plans towards lighting the approaches to the Thames river highway bridge at New London in order to make it safer for the users of the highway are to be discussed by State Highway Commissioner C. J. Bennett in a conference he will hold this (Friday) morning with Mayor E. Frank Morgan of New London.

The approaches are hardly in a safe condition for strangers and not much less dangerous for local people who are better acquainted with the roughness. All the fences along the approaches are in place and at some points along the highway, near the bridge, it would be an easy matter to drive off the embankment or to turn out for enough so that a slide down the steep bank might occur.

The state highway commissioner and the mayor are both willing to co-operate with the Connecticut company in arranging to have trolley service across the bridge but the matter rests with the trolley company itself. For neither the state nor the city propose to provide all the necessary improvements for
